

Project Scope

What the user say they need?

A website to provide information about food items, being able to order food online and a possibility of creating a user name and save the order history.

What they actually need?

☐ A simple and responsive UX friendly website.

☐ A website capable of providing information about food items.

☐ Capabilities of creating users.

☐ Capabilities of ordering foods and saving order histories.

☐ Capabilities of adding, editing and deleting of items.

What they don't know they need?

The option for website to grow and offer options for social media, a kind of discount for a regular customers and a good offer if order exceeds from a number of people.